Susana,

Thank you for the response and the phone call today to follow up with the information that this agreement to hold the event this weekend would not be processed in time, and that it is still in legal review. This event can not be postponed.

Regards,

Brad Maloney

Good morning Bradley,

As advised the draft agreement is with our Legal Department for review but the time to get this through the review process is tight. Will you move the date?

Susana,

Per our agent, the window has passed for us to be able to obtain any special event insurance for the Harvest nights festival. As I explained prior, it takes time for them to quote, bind and provide a policy especially when liquor and camping is involved plus multiple coi for vendors and artists. They could not do this without a signed agreement with the venue.

Susana, can you please give me an update on the agreement. We are at the deadline for being able to get special event insurance, we have been waiting for months. It is going to take a couple weeks for a policy to be bound, I can't even get a quote without the agreement. This event is in absolute grave danger at this time, if the agent does not have this agreement in hand by Friday, there is no way to get insurance in time.

Thank you

Brad
